What do you think we do well at St Leonard's?

Very approachable staff. Able to talk to them about any worries and these are resolved
Feedback about how child is doing.

Approachable and helpful staff who want the best for the children .

My child leaves this term. He has always been extremely happy at school and I as a parent have always felt that his care and education has been excellent. We will be very sad to leave you and your teachers

I think St Leonard's does well at keeping parents informed of what our children are learning and how they are doing in school. Reception staff also seem to know our children very well.

Everyone is very supportive, teachers as well as office staff and head teacher. Nothing is ever a problem, they're always there to help out. My child feels happy and safe and loves school!

Great school with excellent caring teachers. Treats my children with respect and support them to reach their full potential. After school clubs on offer are fabulous. Mrs waddicar is a credit to the school.

Everything, we have never had any major issues in the time either of our daughters have been at St Leonards. The standard of teaching has been fabulous, the children are well looked after, no personal issues with bullying etc, easy to communicate any issues. We will really miss you all when she leaves in July.

The children are extremely well behaved with good manners and kindness. All of these traits are encouraged and recognised.

Great community

The school has a supportive environment and it feels that teachers really care about the children's progress.

Inclusion of all children and parents/carers. Very informative to parents/carers on all levels

Teach children well

Every member of staff is so personable and cares for the child in every aspect rather than just academic achievements. This approach has resulted in a happy, confident, and aspirational little boy for which we couldn't be prouder.

Keeping parents informed.

Friendly, welcoming, good communication, lots of opportunities, pushes academically

Good after school clubs. Good communication with teachers. Push children to do their best.

Celebrating successes, promoting positive behaviour, nurturing approach

Care, love, high expectations both academically and with regards to behaviour.

Teaching children to be kind to one another etc

- Caring school environment and staff that put a high importance on pastoral care.
- Opportunities to be involved in extra curricular clubs.
- supportive of children and their development and achievements.

Reading support

Your school/staff listen to the children, parents respectively.

Staff are extremely helpful, cheerful and happy to help at all times

No complaints about anything. Mrs Filder has been a great teacher and managed SATS really well.

Isabel found SATS boring but didn't feel under pressure and Mrs Filder managed to keep her motivated. The addition of the after school clubs and the sports teams in the last couple of years has been great. Isabel has loved the opportunity to get involved in lots of sports. This has kept her engaged with school, helped burn off her energy and I feel improved her learning.

Promoting family values and inclusion of everyone

The engagement with the children is great.

- Pastoral care
- extra curricular activities
- supportive of development/learning and achievements

Work together with parents

Helping the children learn and develop.

Academic teaching, knowing children really well, demonstrating love and grace

Targeting learning where children are struggling.

Iris loves it. So probably most things

School caters for everyone of all abilities and pushes them to improve and be best they can

After school activities have been great and varied

Rosie has integrated extremely well and Miss Thomas has helped her bridge the gap from her previous school really well. At Leonard's particularly supports Rosie's eagerness to learn and recognises hard work and progress well.

Keeping the children happy

Great school facilities, and the teachers seem to be happy with seemingly low staff turnover. I think Mrs Lindly is a good head teacher who puts the staff and the children first. My child is happy and I'm confident they are at a good school.

Staff are amazing and supportive

Genuinely care for the children

St Leonard's is outstanding, the learning, teachers, variation of curriculum & the family culture

Children are pushed to do well

Care and support my child.

Phonics

Caring environment

Supporting the children, feeling like a family and listening. The options of non academic activities had improved massively giving children time to shine. Sparking interest in history and geography with hands on trips or activities would be amazing.

You do really well in lots of areas from educational attainment to safety of children.

Sports and extra-curricular activities

Most things

Early years

The school have been amazing in every aspect of my daughter since she began, she trusts her teachers and can discuss anything with them whilst feeling safe and secure, she loves learning and they ensure every aspect is fun. The school encourages the children to be present in god and this promotes my daughter to be and do better as a person holistically.

Extra curricular, sharing information

Creates a happy environment

Supportive atmosphere with the child's needs at the core of this

Ensuring each child is seen as an individual

Follow the school promises ultimately leading to well behaved and polite children

Lots of opportunities to learn and extra curriculum activities

Good variety of extra curricular, sports activities, trips, brass. Excellent teaching standard.

St Leonards is a very nurturing school. Academically my child is doing well here and enjoys it

Sense of community and belonging for the children. All staff are very nurturing. The teacher knows my child for who they are and what they like/ dislike / enjoy. The class holds a sense of calm, and teachers seem relaxed with the children.

Supporting children to achieve their best

All round good school

Staff are very pleasant and happy. They get to know your child and nurture and care for them like their own children which makes them happy at preschool. Uploading of pics and what the children are up to on tapestry. Communication with parents. Sense of community and belonging is strong at school. Children are praised and celebrated. With the above, my children felt the sense of telling staff "I love you" as that safe, secure, happy parenting was replicated at nursery.

Communication

Children are happy

Lovely teachers and know my child is well cared for

Supporting individual needs alongside a broad and balanced curriculum.

A really well all rounded school. Ella loves school and I have recommended others to start at St Leonard's who will be starting in September!

Making sure all children are happy.

High expectations, wonderful staff, lots of extracurricular clubs

Absolutely everything, I couldn't narrow it down to one particular thing. But since moving here in October. They have progressed so much more. It's well and truly the best decision I ever made and especially picking at Leonards I'm so so glad they got in.

Nice setting, friendly teachers and a nice environment in which my child is happy

Langho and Billington St. Leonard's Church of England Primary School

All issues, if any, are dealt with appropriately, fairly and kindly

Creating a sense of belonging

The school feels like a community, the children feel safe and enjoy going. Teachers are approachable for parents and children and happy to help with any issues.

After school clubs are great, my daughter seems very happy.

Achieve

Push the children academically and ensure that they reach their full potential.

Education

High behavioural standards. Much improved sports provision. Great mix of after school activity options. Caring teachers. School building and external areas well looked after and improving each year. Timely effective response for any issues raised.

All aspects are done well

Faith principles and teaching that run through all activities.

The whole school experience for Erin has been wonderful and there has never been a day that she hasn't wanted to come in or a day when she has come home unhappy. The school and staff are exceptional. I will miss being part of it when Erin leaves.

Lots of activities and support for the children

Teachers are fantastic and very supportive

Variety of after school clubs.

Nice teachers
